is Proud to share the joy of Gardening with our Children

Our little gardening project has grown from one row to six, with each class making their own decisions about what to plant. After they plant, they weed and water and reap the benefits when it is time to harvest! Some of our vegetables never make it to the Front Desk! We have plants growing year-round, while we are educating students about the differences between a winter garden, a summer garden, and a fall garden! The children take pride in reaping the harvest!
